Plan Your Video Game Sales Strategy In Terms Of These Major Trends…

…Year-Round Video Game Sales. Consumers now perceive programmable video games as an upscale, year-round leisure activity. The sales boom should continue throughout the entire year as consumers build their cartridge libraries.

…Big Increase In Cartridge Sales. New video game technology will be marketed most frequently in the form of cartridges, or "software." Owners of programmable systems will be able to enjoy the new games at relatively low cost.

…More Sophisticated Consumers. A new breed of affluent video game hobbyists will be looking for retail stores with comprehensive inventories of cartridges and adequate display/demonstration facilities.

THIS YEAR
THE ATARI VIDEO COMPUTER SYSTEM WILL OUTSELL ALL COMPETITION...AGAIN.

ATARI IS READY TO DELIVER
THE MOST GAMES, CARTRIDGES, AND CUSTOMERS...NOW.

1978 is the year of the programmable game. Consumers' attitudes toward video games have matured considerably. Now they're buying advanced electronics, sophisticated features, and, most of all, a great selection of challenging games. In fact, we're predicting that programmable video games will outsell non-programmables 3 to 1 this year. That's why Atari is totally committed to the production and expansion of the Video Computer System.

Atari has games and cartridges ready for immediate delivery. This summer we plan to have 16 Game Program™ cartridges, containing over 1000 games and variations, ready to ship. And by the Christmas holidays, we expect to add at least 4 exciting new cartridges.

New Keyboard Games add another dimension in play value. Now the Video Computer System has keyboard data entry. Strategy game hobbyists will welcome the calculatortestyle controllers. Like our other controllers, they're interchangeable and plug in easily. We've also made sure that the new keyboard games appeal to today's more demanding video game consumer. Fascinating, as well as fun, the first two keyboard Game Program cartridges are available for delivery now.

The Video Computer System is the most thoroughly pre-sold video game ever marketed. Atari starts by making a superior product with the best video game cartridges ever invented. Then we make sure that consumers know it. With heavy network and spot television beginning well before your key selling season. And with major consumer print in opinion-leading publications like People, Playboy, and Sports Illustrated.

The Atari Video Computer System delivers profits year round. Of course we're gearing up for the traditional holiday rush. We're also making sure that existing Video Computer System owners come back for new cartridges all the time. What's more, we're finding that lots of people can't wait for Christmas and treat themselves to an early present and that means your Christmas can be year round, too.

Now's the time to stock up thoroughly and merchandise aggressively. You'll be amazed how soon you have to reorder.

Announcing Keyboard Data Entry... a whole new dimension in compute power for the Atari Video Computer System™

New Keyboard Controllers add amazing power and versatility to the Video Computer System™

Just a few years ago they called it Science Fiction...an affordable home computer that could entertain, educate, perform time-saving calculations. Now Atari has put it all together: the versatile Video Computer System™ with Keyboard Data Entry and a new generation of program cartridges.

Keyboard Data Entry means that the Video Computer System™ can do more than play games. This "alphanumeric" controller plugs in easily to the console and permits the user to communicate specific numbers...like banking information, geometric coordinates, musical notation, and on and on. Three new cartridges have already been developed for use with Keyboard Data Entry...

- an educational program involving pattern recognition,
- an entertaining memory-training game for both kids and adults,
- a fascinating and addictive code-breaking strategy game.

The sky's the limit...Atari engineers say they can design just about any program that consumers want. They're already talking about such mind-boggling new cartridges as a chess game, income tax computer, horoscope charter, and algebra tutor.

With the Atari Video Computer System™, a set of Keyboard Data Entry Controllers, and a library of program cartridges, it's like a science fiction dream-come-true...a powerful and sophisticated home computer which almost anybody can afford, operate and enjoy.
